

R500 000 education boost for bursars

CDM Picks up the tab

CDM has earmarked half a million Rand to help Namibians study at tertiary institutions next year. The rocketing cost of education, beyond the means of most families, precipitated a flood of applications for CDM bursaries this year.

Sixteen Namibians were selected from more than six hundred requests for financial backing. This brings to 36 the number of students receiving CDM assistance.

Criteria for selections to the bursary scheme include the candidates' proven academic excellence, suitability for tertiary education and CDM and Namibia's future skills needs.

Each individual's personal career expectations and projected job availability were taken into consideration when each bursary was awarded.

Werner Morgenstern, age 18, attending the German High School, Windhoek, will study for a BSc degree at the University of Namibia with emphasis on Information Systems and/or Computer Science.

Roseline Clarke, age 18, attending Concordia College, will study for a B. Bus Sc (Computer Science) degree in Information Systems at the University of Cape Town.

Wessels Feris will take accounting as a major when studying for a B. Comm at the University of Namibia. Wessels, age 18, is a pupil at Rehoboth High School.

Centaurus High School pupil, Le-Anne

Smith, age 18, will study for a B. Accounting degree at the University of Stellenbosch.

Age 19, Jacques Esbach, a former pupil at Academia High School has been awarded a bursary for his second and third years of study provided Accounting 3 is included as a major in the degree structure.

Selma Kavezera, age 20, a former pupil at the A Shipena Secondary School, will complete a B Comm degree at the University of Namibia. A job in the retail section of the Company will await her on completing her studies.

Errol Beukes's completion of a B Com at the University of Namibia will lead to employment within the materials section of the Company. Errol, age 17, is a pupil at Concordia College.

AME Private School pupil, 22-year-old Hendrina Hitula plans to study to become a dental technician. Hendrina is the daughter of CDM employee Jonah Hitula and his wife, Hendrina Nangula.

Ehrenfried Kandjarera, age 19 at the Augustineum High School will study for a BA in personnel management at the University of Namibia.

Elizabeth Mayne, age 18, at Windhoek High School will study for a degree in Social Sciences with emphasis on personnel management at the University of Cape Town.

Sebastian Munyaza, age 22, a former pupil at Caprivi Senior Secondary School, has been awarded a bursary to allow him to complete his final year at the Namibian Technikon.

Similarly, Heritha Muyoba will also receive assistance to complete her final year at the Namibian Technikon. Heritha, age 21 is a former pupil at Katimo Mulilo High School.

Sebulon Kandondi, age 24, will study for a National Diploma in Mechanical Engineering at the Cape Technikon.

Pupil at St Paul's College, eighteen-year-old Michael Curtis will study for a B Sc (Mech Eng) at UCT.

Stephanus Cohen, age 28, will complete his remaining studies for a National Diploma in Mechanical Engineering at the Cape Technikon.

German Private High School pupil, nineteen-year-old Sieghart Drews will study for a B Sc (Chem Eng) at UCT.

A further twelve applicants were counselled by the Bursary Panel and offered alternative study programmes with the mine's various in-house training schemes.

Five pupils were selected for the Accounts Technician Training scheme. They are CJ van Zyl (PK de Villiers High School); DD Dirkse and DD Strauss (Tucsin); S de Klerk (David Bezuidenhout High School) and M van Eeden at Windhoek High School.

Extractive Metallurgy programme: PS van Wyk (Martin Luther High School) and C du Plessis (Jan Mohr High School).

Information Systems operators and programmers: BM Muteka (Martin Luther High School); R Maendo (Paresis Senior Secondary School) and CR Cloete (Ella du Plessis High School).

Mining: J Kaulinge (Martin Luther High School).

Surveying: CH Alexander (B Sc graduate of the University of Namibia). ♦

Laurels for high schoolers

More news of talented high schoolers' achievements has reached the Newsletter. Printing works foreman Dave Webber was surprised and thrilled to receive a congratulatory letter from the headmaster of Queen's College with news of his son's success. Colin, who came second in the Standard 7 Mathematics Olympiad in which eleven schools and ninety pupils took part had said nothing to his dad about it. In his letter, Dudley Schroeder predicts a bright future for Colin.

Denise and Dick Barklie are over the moon about their son Tyrall's selection as prefect. Ex-OPS pupil, Tyrall is a pupil at Westcliffe Technical High School, Bellville studying N1.

Proud as punch, Piet Bredenkamp phoned about his daughter's high school achievement.

Piet and his wife Veronica are thrilled that Lizl has been chosen a vice head girl of the girl's hostel at Namaqualand High School in Springbok.

SPERRBEBIET MUSEUM

Illustrated talk on Bushmen of the Namib

On Wednesday November 28 at 19:30 in the museum, Mr Dieter Noli will give a talk, illustrated with slides, on the prehistory of the Namib.

Mr Noli, an archaeologist at UCT, has excavated a cave in Lüderitz and two more in the Namib proper dating back to between six and eight thousand years. From his finds he is able to answer those tantalising questions - when did the Bushmen inhabit the desert and why? What did they do here? How did they live? What did they eat? When did they leave? Where did they go to and why? He will also be able to explain the significance of the Bushmen artifacts that are found in the area, examples of which are on display in the museum.

It promises to be a most enlightening and entertaining evening for anyone who has spent any time scrounging around in the desert. Refreshments will be served. All are welcome. ♦

Citizenship Act explained at Monday meeting

More than 800 ex-patriate employees, attended Monday night's meeting called to clarify Government requirements under the Citizenship Act.

While acknowledging an understanding for employees' feelings of insecurity, particularly those with long service, Keith Whitelock emphasised the right of Government to regulate the status of people living and working in Namibia. He said that every government in the world does so, Namibia is no exception.

"Her citizens have a right to the jobs they are qualified for and at CDM we are committed to employing Namibians".

He urged employees who are eligible for citizenship under the Prime Minister's independence gift to take advantage of that offer.

Every effort is being made by Personnel to expedite the formalities, to the extent that Kotie Reid in conjunction with Lindsay Ross and her staff are available to help ex-pats with their enquiries. ♦

Home Affairs officials visit to process visa applications

Home Affairs officials will be available at the library on Thursday and Friday, November 22 and 23 from 08:00 - 20:00 to process re-entry visas.

Re-entry visas will be required after December 31, 1990 by returning residents in order to enter Oranjemund/Namibia.

People who have questions regarding their specific circumstances with regard to visas should discuss them with these officials.

Re-entry visa forms should be as complete as possible when submitting them to the officials next week. ♦

Variety is the spice of OPS Concert

OPS is so wonderful, the children even enjoy the discipline.

"Sneeuwitjie", Morné Hattingh, the falrest of them all.

The "kombuls orkes" cooking up a storm!

Noah's ark animals waiting for the flood.

Orange Mouth

Marita Irvine congratulates Lyn for the exquisite decor at the OPS concert which made going worthwhile.

"Ina se Jan van Riebeeck was 'n skildery van woorde, 'n ware kompliment vir ons taal" but I found the continuous reference to adult behaviour ie drinking, drunkenness and smoking very disturbing. I got the impression that it is OK to do so if it makes other people, mainly adults, laugh."

"Is such a message healthy or a lesson?"

"Are our clubs going to the dogs?" asks Poo-ed Off. "In recent months, no matter to which club one goes, there are always one or two dogs running freely amongst the crowd, knocking over the odd toddler, glasses, or helping themselves to whatever food one might have given the children - not to mention trampling in the plates of food given to the children. Other dogs that are kept on a lead and under control cause no havoc whatsoever. Both types of dogs, no matter how sweet their owner finds them, leave unsavoury reminders of their passing visit. Please dog owners, think of others and keep your dogs away from public places."

Pam Frost says, "The Foodmarket did not open at lunchtime today (Tuesday, November 13) and, as far as I know, no notification was given - apparently the shop was closed for stocktaking. Was not the arrangement that these things would be attended to prior to 12:00?"

"The Shopping Centre had three loaves of bread on the shelf, two of which were growing mould. There was no yoghurt or cottage cheese."

"Is the Company providing a service or not?"

Ed: True to his undertaking to improve customer relations, Danie Erasmus apologises to the Oranjemund shoppers for the fact that stocktaking in the Foodmarket took an hour longer than planned.

"Yes, we apologise, no notice was given".

"Sales of bread at the Shopping Centre have dropped because most people buy at the Foodmarket, so when the Foodmarket was closed until 13:00 there was a rush on the meagre stocks at the Shopping Centre. No-one had thought to transfer bread there."

Corrie van der Nest personally delivered a fresh loaf of bread to Pam.

I'm stunned - I'm lying on the floor in shock. It's fantastic - free delivery of bread to make up for my hassle," says Pam.

Ed's notes

Certain common business expressions are heard in day-to-day dealings in the work place, often without much thought as to their real meaning. Here's one wag's interpretation of those phrases: The All-purpose Businessman's Vocabulary or How To Succeed Without Really Thinking.

A consultant: Any ordinary guy with a briefcase more than 50 miles from home.
An expert: A person who avoids all small errors as he sweeps toward the grand fallacy.

A statistician: One who draws a mathematically precise line from an unwarranted assumption to a foregone conclusion.

A colleague: Someone called in at the last minute to share the blame.

A reliable source: The guy you just met.

An informed source: The guy who told the guy you just met.

An unimpeachable source: The guy who started the rumour originally.

A meeting: A mass mulling of master-minds.

A conference: A place where conversation is substituted for the dreariness of labour and the loneliness of thought.

A programme: Any assignment that can't be completed by one telephone call.

Channels: The guy who has a desk between two expeditors.

To activate: To make copies and add more names to the memo.

To expedite: To confound confusion with commotion.

To implement a programme: Hire more people and expand the office.

To research: Go looking for the jerk who moved the files.

To give someone the picture: To present a long, confused and inaccurate statement to a newcomer.

To clarify: To fill in the background with so many details that the foreground goes underground.

Games people play

At last, some viewpoints about the schools are being openly vented by parents. If communication is supposed to be the name of the game then "die base van die plase" in the local school take the cake by playing the low key game regarding all the major issues that are happening, or about to happen, to not only the parents and their children but the lowly teachers as well. Is it not time that this game is played by the rules so that all of us dunces actually know what is going on and, indeed, how all these changes are going to effect us?

Poetic Justice

The brief is out; carat call is too low tighten our belts, no it's not so at CDM that's the very last thing we spend the money have a "last" fling.

We look to the bosses' examples to view but new bathrooms, extensions, carpets too everywhere new buildings, cars. "Let's make hay"

the boss says, "There's money, just order away."

Maybe I'm silly, business it's not quite like being sensible when things are tight keeping up standards, I care quite a lot stand together and let's use what we've got

If discretion was made the order of the day

I would not need to worry about getting my pay

Not today or tomorrow, but five years from here will CDM still say then, "Be of good cheer?"

The Spoon

Never say never

A CDM employee recently received a letter which gave the date of renewal of his two-year contract as February 31, 1992.

"I believe you have extensive experience in the design of calendars."

A glossy Cinderella tale, Pretty Woman is this weekend's film offering to keep the blues at bay.

A modern day fairy story starring Richard Gere and Julia Roberts as Edward Lewis and Vivian, the hooker, respectively. He has a business brain which destroys companies but his emotional life is a nil - he talks more to his secretary than to the women in his life.

When in Los Angeles on one of his company buying sprees he asks Vivian for directions and she offers to show him the way for 20 dollars. After they have spent the night together he makes her a business proposition: to be his companion for the rest of the week - for a fee, naturally. There follow shopping jaunts, classy dinners and the kind of pleasures that many girls dream of.

The script is witty, the situations sometimes funny, sometimes poignant. Above all the performances of Gere and Roberts are wonderful. All in all a pleasing romantic comedy. Age restriction 2-14.

Critics have given Monday and Tuesday's movie The Hidden three and a half stars. It seems to have sneaked into the current film line-up with very little publicity, for I could find very little information about it.

The Hidden is described as 'an intelligent, slick and blackly-comic alien splatter suspense drama'. Don't see it if you want a quick thrill. Age restriction 2-16

Volleyball Club annual prize-giving

The 1990 season has drawn to an end. Congratulations to all the award winners who were announced last week at the annual prize-giving.

Antoinette van Geems

Players of the year were Neville Smith and Corrie du Plooy; most improved senior players were Martin Niemand... and

Linda van der Merwe; most improved junior player was Antoinette van Geems; club member of the year was Neville Smith and non-playing member of the year was Steve Muller.

Congratulations to Corrie du Plooy on winning the Oranjemund Sportswoman of the Year Award.

Another year has passed with lots of sporting successes and memories. Thank you to everyone who supported and helped the club in any way and also to the public of Oranjemund for their financial support.

Don't forget the AGM on December 5th 20.00 in the clubhouse. Let us support the new committee in 1991 and face all the challenges together. Once again, thank you for 1990. ♦

Namib Stragglers

Twenty-one members took part in time trial 463 on Monday afternoon. Results are:

2 km - C Mc Master 10:10; B Mc Master 10:18; C Parker 11:36

4 km - M Brockerhoff 16:24; J Shituula 16:46; J Bethke 19:16

6 km - G Max 26:55; D Geldenhuys 29:28; C Shoyer 29:28

8 km - S Martin 29:11; T Wolstenholme 31:39; J Weich 35:28

As the members noticed on Monday at the time trial, the Namib Stragglers implemented a computer system to assist the committee in managing the time trial results more effectively. This computer system (NSCS) also accommodates all the relevant information on each member of the club. To do this, each member was allocated a membership number. It is therefore important that the committee has an application form for each individual member. A list of all these numbers will be posted on the notice-board in the club house. Please ensure that your name is on the list and that you know what your number is. For more information on this please contact Miemie Labuschagne at 2349.

The benefits to the members by using NSCS includes:

- Reports can be printed for all the time trial results on record per member.
- Reports can be printed for all the time trial results for one member. You can now request a printout of your results.
- A report can be produced with the results for any one time trial.
- A report showing how you performed compared to the other members (ranking report) for each distance can also be produced and will be posted on the notice-board regularly.

Remember the Triathlon

In less than a month you will have the chance to show what you're made of during the annual triathlon. Persons who are competing in the team event are urged to get their teams together. The grapevine has it that Information Services is challenging Finance. Let's see some more challenges! ♦

Voortrekkers hou koers by jaarlikse

prysuitdeling

Die jaar nader sy einde, en so begin die bewegings met afsluitings funksies. Vrydagaand, 9 November was die jaarlikse afsluiting van die beweging. Die Voortrekkers het opgedaag en baie van hulle was vergesel deur hul ouers. 'n Baie suksesvolle jaar waarvoor die offisiere hartlik bedank word.

Die verskillende trofee en tekens is uitgedeel en die spanning het hoog geloop. Tussen deur is die ouers vergas deur opvoerings van die verskillende klasse.

Baie geluk aan ieder en elk van die Voortrekkers wat 'n toekenning ontvang het. Diegene wat minder gelukkig was - onthou ons probeer volgende jaar weer. Verloorders moet daar ook wees.

Die aand is afgesluit met 'n bring-en-braai en offisiere, ouers en Voortrekkers het gesellig saam verkeer.

Hou koers! Tot volgende jaar. ♦

TENNIS CLUB

Annual General Meeting

The second attempt at the 1990 annual general meeting held on Saturday November 10 was successful with a total of 29 members attending. After the disappointment of the previous week, this was a very positive response and in fact, showed a better attendance than in many years previously. Many, many thanks to those who attended and to those who took the trouble to send apologies.

In her report, the chairlady stressed that it is not only the committee who is responsible for the success of a club, but also the members. As time passes, it becomes increasingly more difficult to find members who are prepared to serve on committees and this task falls, more often than not, onto familiar shoulders.

This year, the Tennis Club has to

Ulle, Wessel Erasmus en Karin Nortje, ontvang skeie vir werk gedoen gedurende die jaar en wile vir aantal jare.

The newly elected committee are: chairman - Gert Nissen; secretary - Santi Louw; club captain - Woutjek Szpila; vice captain - Jakes Mbandi; treasurer - unfilled; social organiser - Joy Owen and Tuesday representative - Gill Steyn.

The position of club treasurer was unfilled and it was decided that the commit

St 5 leerlinge, Johan Momberg en Ryan Stassen, ontvang elk 'n kamp toekenning.

The new committee are wished every success and have been left with the challenge of a number of social away-trips as well as the prospect of an Oranjemund championships for the clubs affiliated to the Namibia Tennis Association. The idea is that this become an annual event and can be named anything the club desires.
